Assembly Presentation By Grade X A Topic: National Pollution Control Day

“Earth provides enough to satisfy every man’s need, but not every man’s greed.”

-Mahatma Gandhi

Environmental pollution is currently one of the biggest challenges the world is facing today. The students of Grade X conducted an assembly on the special occasion of National Pollution Control Day on December 2nd. The aim behind celebrating the day was to raise awareness about the problem caused by increasing pollution because everyone on the earth is entitled to clean air to breathe, water to drink, and to enjoy public lands. The day began with the prayer to the almighty followed by the school song. Later, the students took the national pledge with utmost patriotism. Moving further, thought – provoking quotes, and a didactic word were presented. It was followed by an elucidating article which conveyed a resolute message. Following was a beautiful poem recited in the memory of those who had lost their lives in the Bhopal Gas tragedy in 1984. Pollution is just a problem whether it be air, water, soil and noise. So be the change you want to see and help the sick planet to turn into a beautiful one. Furthermore, the assembly was brought to a fervent conclusion with the echoes of the national anthem on the school ground. A very enlightening assembly conveyed a strong message, if we don't act on reversing our wrongs now, it might be too late.

"Indian Navy Day always reminds us of all our heroes who stand strong to keep us safe."

Every year on 4th December, the Indian Navy commemorates the commencement of Operation Trident against Pakistan during the Indo-Pak War. The Indian Navy organised the night strike on December 4-5, 1971. The day is observed to acknowledge and appreciate the Indian Navy's achievements and involvement in the country. Later on, we were briefed with the latest news headlines. Furthermore, we got to hear a lovely and delightful poem. Then, we were addressed to by our Principal Dr.Mona Mehdi. Finally our assembly concluded with the echo of the national anthem all over the school ground inducing nostalgic shivers within the audiences. Topic: Character and Success

“Every little action of the common day makes or unmakes character.”

-Oscar Wilde

The character build up of a person is the first essential virtue for any kind of success. There is no better success than a person who is honest, hard working, determined and respectful. Even though a person who is not honest can win in a particular phase of life but one must always remember the fact that success in life is only achieved when our soul is satisfied. Our soul becomes satisfied when we practice right instead of wrong. No matter how many difficulties you face but never give up the path of honesty and determination. Let your character speak for itself. At the end of the day, success should be the honesty, positive thinking and the self satisfaction inside of us.

With this thought in mind, students of Grade V B presented an assembly on the topic “Character and Success” on 08/12/2022, 09/12/2022 and 13/12/2022 to 16/12/2022. Country without a farmer, is a tree without a fruit.

George Washington stated about agriculture in the most beautiful way “Agriculture is the most helpful, most useful, most noble employment of men”. It’s the art of cultivating plants and livestock. Without that, our survival of life on Earth is not possible. The history of agriculture began a thousand years ago. It’s the first and foremost employment of men and women on the earth. It requires patience, physical strength, love and care towards the plants. You have to put your heart and soul to fulfill that need and natural support for the plants to nourish.

The day started enthusiastically with prayer followed by school song. Pledge was administered by Aishani Batchu, an enriching thought was said by Poojitha K and to enhance the vocabulary, word was presented by Saharsh Mangipudi. The boundless joy of celebrating the festival was amply visible on the faces of the children. The essence of Christmas came alive especially when Santa moved around distributing chocolates to the children. “Sugar and spice makes Christmas nice”. We cut the Christmas cake for our school and got up to dance to Jingle Bells. The program concluded on a joyful note with the festive spirit and invincible excitement among the students.

Assembly Presentation By Grade VI Topic: Festivals-Brings Positivity

“Festivals teach us to share joy with each other.”

Morning Assembly is a way that our students, teachers, and parents build close ties, stay informed, identify role models, and experience the reinforcement of positive messages. The Morning Assembly also creates skillful public speakers who can confidently deliver a message in front of a large audience.

The students of Grade VI conducted the morning assembly on the topic “Festivities – Bring Positivity” from 27th December to 30 December. The morning started with Guru Vandana followed by the school song. Wonderful thoughts for the day were shared by the students. The students spoke the word for the day and also explained its meaning. Learning and teaching go hand in hand in the morning assembly. The articles delivered by the students provided plenty of inspiration for fresh and positive messages. The character-building qualities like honesty, respect, responsibility and spirituality were emphasised on and the students were motivated to develop these qualities and try to reinforce them in their life. The students understood that being genuine, sincere, and trustworthy would add the required moral foundation to their life. The students vowed that they would be generous, respect everyone and care for each other and be positive. Celebrating festivals and bringing positivity in life is the cornerstone for developing and maintaining a harmonious and productive relationship in the long run. The assembly helped the students in knowing the importance of festivals, imbibing the values, and innate goodness of humankind, resulting in a peaceful and empathetic environment.

CCA Competition of Grade I, II & III

Topic: Be Creative

“Creativity doesn't wait for that perfect moment.”

Creativity is the interaction between the learning environment, both physical and social, the attitudes and attributes of both teachers and students, and a clear problem-solving process which produces a perceptible product. Keeping this in the mind, “BE CREATIVE” was organized for the students of grades-1, 2 & 3 on 29th December, 2022 as a part of C.C.A to encourage them to develop their thinking skills.

This art form mainly engages the students and sneakily enhances their logical and multi perspective thinking skills. This activity helps children to learn the skills of patience. It allows children to be relaxed and comfortable while creating a piece of art. As children grow older, the things they learned would be a great help while learning to write. The fun they had certainly adds new innings to their colourful childhood memories.

-Ms.Sirisha

CCA Competition of Grade IV,V & VI

Topic: Wall Hanging

“A flower does not think of competing to the flower next to it.
It just blooms.”

Young children have an ocean of hidden talent amongst them. Keeping this in view, we at Jain Heritage a Cambridge School, Kondapur – conducted ‘wall hanging’ activity for the students of Grades IV, V & VI on 29th & 30th December, 2022 in the respective classrooms as a part of CCA competition. The main reason behind organizing these competitions is to nurture the intrinsic qualities of students and remove the fear of stage among students, which helps in personality development too. Wall hanging activity with children is a great kid’s activity for a lot of reasons. The activity is simple, inexpensive and uses real objects. Benefits include fine motor development, concentration and self-regulation. Plus, the materials are easily available. In addition to beautifying our surroundings, wall hanging encourages improved manual dexterity, promotes sensory stimulation and can also reduce stress. The students prepared beautiful wall hangings. The competition proved to be a great learning experience for the students and gave them a platform to project themselves.

View The Review...

Pride and Prejudice by Jane Austen is my favorite book of all time-- which isn't a phrase I throw out lightly! This book truly has the best of all worlds-- a wonderful romance, lovable characters, humor, and beautiful writing. Pride and Prejudice is the story of a young woman in the 1800's, Elizabeth Bennet. The Bennet family has five daughters, and in an age where the only thing women could do was marry rich, all the girls are pressured to find wealthy matches to secure the family's comfort. Elizabeth, however, refuses to marry the first man she comes along, and only marry when for love. She meets brooding, silent, proud and very rich Mr. Darcy, who at first has no interest in Elizabeth. Over time, he begins to fall in love with her wit and charm. Elizabeth thinks Darcy is the last man she could ever marry, but through the course of the novel, begins to see that her prejudices towards him are fake and that he is a true gentleman who is only shy. The questions remains-- will they overcome their pride and prejudices and get married? I'm not a huge fan of 'classical classics' where the writing style is dull and hard to understand. I was so pleased to find that this is not the case with Austen's writing style. I enjoyed every single page of this wonderful novel, and truly did not want it to end! I will certainly be reading more Austen! I would recommend this book to anyone-- fans of romance, family-oriented stories, comedies, fans of classics, and even reluctant readers of classics who would like an easy gateway into the world of classic novels.

Alumni Speaks

When I initially began attending JHCS KP, I was in the fifth grade. I just moved from Saudi Arabia to Hyderabad. My cousins began going to school. I think I made the proper decision by joining them. Five people made up my whole class. We had a lot of time to talk to people and build relationships with the professors. I had a great time in school. We were only permitted to complete our homework in class, which was a stringent restriction maintained by JGI. Lock the cabinet where we store our luggage and books. Not permitted to bring homework from school. By hosting them, the school encouraged us to take part in a range of extracurricular and curricular activities. This enabled all of us to see our strengths and hone them.

These exercises really increased my self-assurance and encouraged my creative thinking. We frequently traveled for contests, which helped me grow in responsibility and independence. Additionally, the school promoted environmental responsibility by organizing planting drives across Kondapur. These trips made us more aware of the environment and the value of maintaining a safe and clean environment.

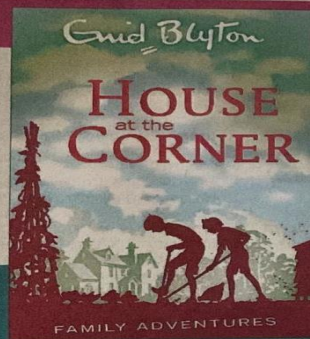

I had a good time with the teachers at school, and I found them to be extremely helpful with both the things they taught and other issues we faced. They were considerate at all times and would assist a student who was struggling with a particular subject or idea.

I'll never forget the good times I had in school with my friends and classmates. We constantly kept ourselves busy and supported one another when needed, whether it was getting into mischief or simply enjoying our leisure time. We had a much lower class size than classes at other schools, which I believe helped us to get along so well and form close friendships. In addition to my schoolwork, I took part in every yearly sport event. Aditiya, Abhey, Ashoka, and Aditiya were the names of our four houses. We would compete for points in each activity in a yearly sporting tournament.

BOOK REVIEW: HOUSE AT THE CORNER

House At The Corner is a book written by Enid Blyton. It was officially published in 1947. The book ranks among the finest works of Blyton.

The book is a classic family tale. It moves around Aunt Grace, who is portrayed as a woman who is rather intruding with a sharp tongue but is kind and caring to those who she loves. The book depicts the different challenges children go through, and how they manage to train themselves to handle all the situations they come across. It also tells us that families should be a united front, fight together, and support each other in times of need.

My favourite character is Lizzie because she is witty and saves her family when they are in dire need of help and support. I could relate to the characters in several ways, and the story kept me guessing. My favourite part of the book is when Lizzie's family got to know about her writing skills and were ecstatic. Certain scenes are written particularly well, for instance, the sad scenes. Certain parts, like Tony's pranks and jokes, made me laugh a deal. I like the book to such an extent, that I read it repeatedly, 19 times to be exact.

Overall, it is an outstanding book. I would recommend this book to young readers and fans of comedy and family adventure.

Ms Jyoti Arora, CCA Coordinator, Jain Heritage A Cambridge School Kondapur

"If you are a chef, no matter how good a chef you are, it's not good cooking for yourself; the joy is in cooking for others."

The staff members of JHCS Kondapur participated with full zeal and enthusiasm in the cookery competition conducted by IHHM as they doled out nutritious yet delectable delicacies selected post exhaustive research on the cultural backgrounds of the relevant recipes. Artefacts and food items displayed were a visual treat and were presented in an artistic and aesthetic style. Dishes were judged on nutrition and taste by esteemed judges Dr Mona Mehdi, Principal JHCS Kondapur and Sachin, Chef at IHHM. The event not only provided a platform for the teachers to foster their creativity and decision-making skills but also helped them explore their hidden talents and discover new areas of interest.

THE MORNING WALK

I went to a park in the morning
I saw some birds singing
Then I heard some sounds
Oh! They are baby birds

The baby birds are eating
And the mother bird is feeding
After eating the baby birds are in the nest
And after feeding the mother bird is taking rest

Then I saw a bird flying in the sky
So high and high
Then the skylark sang a song
And I sang along, along
